About us :

The Eknath kaka jagtap pratisthan is a non-profit organisation with a mission to provide children from low-income communities with a high-quality education, enabling them to maximize their potential and transform their lives. Eknath kaka works in the field of education, initiating school reform through The School Project, and providing a supplemental education through the Eknath kaka centers. Currently, Eknath kaka reaches out to over 650 children through two models: the after-school or center model and the School Project. The School Project is a venture to open high-quality schools serving children from low-income communities in Pune. These schools are in partnership with local municipalities, with the vision of creating small clusters of model schools in these cities that can be used to impact the mainstream education system. Through the centers, a commitment is made to support each child by providing a strong educational foundation, good time, self-esteem and values, and to help them plan how they can earn a steady livelihood as a step towards improving their standard of living.

NGO Introduction :

Eknath Kaka Jagtap Pratisthan for Education is a secular organization dedicated to change in Pune by focusing on basic education in the belief that education is a critical requisite for socio-economic change. In keeping with this focus, our volunteers are involved with and support projects that are secular and have an education-related component to them. The objectives of this group are: To provide education to underprivileged children in Pune. To encourage the formation of various local groups across the world to reach out to larger sections of the population.

Vision :

"Child, give me your hand, so that I may walk in the light that you show me" – A healthy and an enlightened child is a vision EN has as its core dream. Education, healthy environment, proper nourishment and affectionate supporters will make this dream come true. Though the circumstances around the child are not very bright as of today, we at Eknath kaka jagtap pratisthan want to brighten up every child's life by eradicating fear from his/her heart.

Mission :

Leaders communicate in the sense that people around them know what they are trying to do.
They are purpose driven--yes, mission driven. They know how to establish a mission.
And another thing, they know how to say no.
The pressure on leaders to do 984 different things is unbearable, so the effective ones learn how to say no and stick with it.
They don't suffocate themselves as a result. Too many leaders try to do a little bit of 25 things and get nothing done.
They are very popular because they always say yes. But they get nothing done.

Health sector :

Our Health Outreach Program works more broadly at the familial and community level and addresses the issues that force children onto the streets in the first place.

We provide all necessary medical care, including routine health check-ups, immunizations, emergency medical care, hospitalizations, surgeries, nutritional supplementation, and antenatal monitoring.

Additionally, we teach health education and adult literacy courses to improve health awareness and empower adults in the community to become forces of positive change, and we work closely with governmental and non-governmental healthcare programs and providers to improve access to healthcare and health information.

Education sector :

Our Education Outreach Program directly supports over 200 children through their primary and secondary education. We enroll the children in school, provide . All the necessary fees and supplies, and tutor them for a minimum of two hours each school day to supplement their academic instruction. We also work with their families to ensure proper emotional and social support, and to address any further barriers to our students reaching their full potential.

Education in India is provided by the public sector as well as the private sector, with control and funding coming from three levels: central, state, and local. Under various articles of the Indian Constitution, free and compulsory education is provided as a fundamental right to children between the ages of 6 and 14.

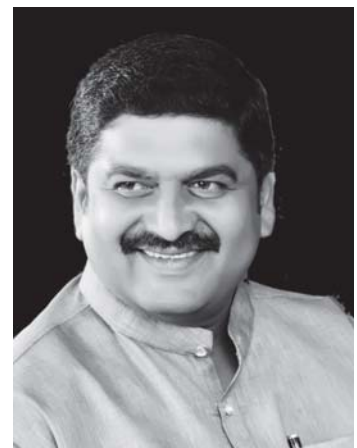

Environment sector :

Various competitions are organized to give them a boost. Clean community and environmental awareness through tree plantation. Through the centers, a commitment is made to support each child by providing a strong educational foundation, good time,

The environmental sector has seen an increase in renewable energy, contaminated land, flood risk management and energy management jobs. There is a particular demand for ecologists with field identification skills to monitor biodiversity and climate change.
